Virtues of Virtual Meetings, 2013 Survey of 438 Executives and Managers

Virtual Reality

- 56% said that their organization had held more virtual meetings in the past 12 months than they had in the previous 12 months.
- 75% of respondents said they participated in virtual meetings from their car.
- Only 40% indicate they are very comfortable using virtual meeting tools.
- 93% indicated multi-tasking is an obstacle to successful virtual meetings.

Session Objectives

By the end of this session, you will be able to:

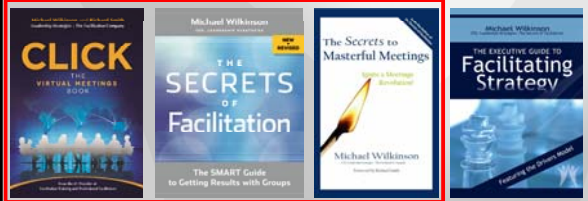

1. Use the 6 Ps to prepare for a virtual session, including selecting an appropriate virtual tool.
2. Implement a variety of engagement strategies for virtual interaction to keep participants engaged – not multi-tasking.
3. Use specific ground rules for virtual sessions.
4. Conduct best practices for managing dysfunction virtually.

Standing Poll

How many virtual meetings/sessions have you led or attended in the last 3 months?

- a. None
- b. Between 1 and 10
- c. Between 11 and 25
- d. Over 25

Why are Virtual Sessions So Different?

1. Getting them to see what they can only hear.
2. Keeping them engaged ... when they know you can't see them.

...Special Virtual Meetings

- 1 person is remote and everyone else is present
- Everyone is remote, no one is local
- Everyone is present except you, the meeting leader

The 6 Ds of Learning Transfer

1. Define the business outcomes: training to achieve a goal, satisfy a need or solve a problem?
2. Design the complete experience
3. Deliver for application: both theory and practice
4. Drive learning transfer: don't fill the box, ignite a fire
5. Deploy performance support
6. Document results; be a business partner

Standing Poll: True or False?

In a virtual session, the most important things to KNOW in order to be fully prepared are the 4 Ps: participants, the process, the (desired) products, and the virtual platform.

▪ Answer: FALSE!

▪ Why:

The MOST IMPORTANT thing to know in preparing for a virtual session is the session purpose.

III. Preparing for the Virtual Session

Handout
Page 6

The 6 Ps of Preparation:

1. Purpose – Why are we having this session?
2. Product – What do we need to have when we are done?

The Three Hs:

- Hands – What do they need to have in their hands when the session is over?
- Head – What do you want them to know?
- Heart – What do you want them to believe?

III. Preparing for the Virtual Session

Handout

The 6 Ps of Preparation:

3. Participants – Who will be attending? What are their attitudes?
4. Probable Issues – What issues will be addressed?
5. Process – What steps will get us there?
6. Place – How will you effectively utilize your virtual meeting environment/platform?

How Do You Choose?

Choosing the Virtual Platform

Your group's level of engagement and productivity is impacted by:

- The participants' motivation
- The meeting leader's energy and skills
- The engagement strategies used
- The session content
- The capabilities of the virtual platform

Choosing the Virtual Platform – Levels of Engagement

- 10 Face-to-Face: People can hear one another, see one another, view the same information, provide written input at the same time, work in sub-teams, fully observe non-verbal communication, and physically interact (e.g., shake hands).
- 8 Audio, Video and Desktop Sharing, White Board and Breakout Groups: People can hear one another, see one another, view the same information, provide written input at the same time, and work in sub-teams.
- 6 Audio, Video and Desktop Sharing: People can hear one another, see one another and view the same information.
- 3 Audio and Desktop Sharing: People can hear one another and see the same information.
- 1 Audio Only: People can hear one another (conference call)

Preparing the Agenda...and Detailed Agenda

- A. Getting started
- B. How does it work today?
- C. Strengths / areas for improvement
- D. Potential improvements
- E. Priorities
- F. Implementation plan
- G. Close

A. Getting Started
Process	List the key topics participants want to discuss; group the topics into categories.
Virtual Details	Have participants record their key topics on the whiteboard. Move items on whiteboard into groups.
Timing	10 minutes (2 + (12 issues x 0.5) + 2)

Using Special Virtual Ground Rules

- Announce yourself when joining and if leaving early.
- Identify yourself before speaking until voices are familiar.
- Avoid the "hold" button, especially when music or other sounds result.
- Use consistent order of speakers.
- Stay 100 percent focused during the meeting; avoid doing other work, answering e-mails, etc.
- Remember the remote.

Tip: Name Card

Preparing the Virtual Meeting Environment

- Set up the virtual meeting room.
- Distribute the virtual meeting invitation.
- Hold a software prep for the facilitator, if necessary.
- Hold a software prep session for participants to review typical challenges, if necessary.
- Use a moderator when appropriate

Do You Need a Moderator?

- Assist with chat rooms, polling questions, documentation, maintaining the parking boards.
- Support all technical issues.
- Other considerations:
  - Monitoring activity
  - A second voice for variety
- Recommended if eight or more people.

The Roll Call List

- During the virtual meeting, you will frequently invite each person to speak on a topic (round-robin).
- Prepare a list of participants and locations to use to check-off who has spoken.

✓						Andrea, Atlanta
✓						Bill, Boston
✓						Cleve, Chicago
✓						Ken, Dallas
✓						Trina, Denver
✓						Vanessa, San Diego
✓						Kathy, Atlanta (project manager)

Handling Difficult "Room" Setups

Handout

What if there are only a few virtual participants?

- Issue: Virtual participants feel isolated and uninvolved
- Actions:
  - Send handouts in advance to remote participants.
  - Have webcam of room and remote participants.
  - Use whiteboards or desktop sharing to show information gathered during the meeting.
  - Consider ground rules such as "Don't forget the remote."
  - Start round robins with remote participants

Handling Difficult "Room" Setups

What if most are virtual?

- Issue: Due to the inability to "read the participants" as well, the tendency is a lack of engagement during sessions with many virtual participants
- Actions:
  - Use round robins maintaining the same order each time.
  - Use whiteboards allowing remote participants to annotate the whiteboards.
  - Use engagement activities such as "the whip."

IV. Starting the Virtual Session Set the Stage With Your Opening

- Through your opening words, you must ...
  - Inform participants about the purpose and product.
  - “The purpose of this meeting is... When we are done, we will have...”

IV. Starting the Virtual Session Set the Stage With Your Opening

- Through your opening words, you must ...
  - Excite participants about benefits.
  - What is the overall result to be achieved? WII-FM?

IV. Starting the Virtual Session Set the Stage With Your Opening

- Through your opening words, you must ...
  - Empower participants by discussing the important role they play in the process.
  - Why were they selected?
What authority have they been given?

IV. Starting the Virtual Session Set the Stage With Your Opening

- Through your opening words, you must...
  - Involve participants through personal objectives and participation.
  - “What are the key topics you want to make sure are covered in this session?”

IV. Starting the Virtual Session Set the Stage With Your Opening

- Which are we best at?
- Which are we worst at?
- Let's look at 2 examples

Excite Example #1

- Good morning, it's a pleasure to be here this morning.
- Our objective for the next two days is to walk away with a plan for improving the hiring process (inform).
- What is exciting about this?
- If we are successful, we will walk away with a new hiring process that will help our organization get the right people hired and get them hired quickly.

Excite Example #2

- Good morning, it's a pleasure to be here this morning.
- Our objective for the next two days is to walk away with a plan for improving the hiring process (inform).
- What is exciting about this?
- Today you may have people on your staff who don't have the skills or the attitude you need. As a result, you are having to work much harder to make up for what they aren't doing. This is your opportunity to put strategies in place to ensure that you get the people you need to get the work done.

Which is better? Why?

Example 1

- If we are successful, we will walk away with a new hiring process that will help our organization get the right people hired and get them hired quickly.

Example 2

IV. Starting the Virtual Session Set the Stage With Your Opening

With Excite:

Say "you" or "your"
at least 4 times!

Employ All Your Best Presentation Techniques

Handout

- Turn on your webcam for remote participants to see you
- Sit tall, don't slouch
- Speak loudly and clearly; vary your tone and emphasis
- Avoid speaking too fast or too slow; vary your rate of delivery
- Be animated
- Make eye contact using the webcam
- Use defined gestures
- Avoid "self-talk"; avoid filler words (e.g., "ah," "um")
- Avoid extremes in dress and grooming
- Ensure your facial expressions match what you are saying

Standing Poll: True or False?

When formulating questions to get lots of ideas, the most important attribute of the question is that it is open-ended.

- Answer: FALSE!
- Why:
The key is to formulate a question that helps the participants visualize the answers!

The Starting Question

You are interviewing a group of school registrars to talk with them about the scheduling process.

Which is the better starting question? Why?

Question Type A

The first thing we want to talk about are inputs. What are the inputs to the scheduling process?

Question Type B

Let's start with... If you were about to develop the school schedule, what is the information you would need to have close by?

↑
What the facilitator wants to know

Draws an image of the answers

Ask Great Starting Questions

Four parts to great starting questions in virtual sessions

1. Notify who will start responding (Why is this so important in the virtual setting?)
2. Begin with an image-building phrase ("think about," "imagine," "consider," "if")
3. Extend the image to the answers (at least two phrases)
4. Ask the direct question (Type A) to get the information you want

Ask Great Starting Questions

Scenario: You want the participants to identify the steps in the hiring process.

What is the Type A question?

- "What are the steps in the hiring process?"

What image-building phrase can you use?

- "Think about the last time you hired someone."

How do you extend the image to the answers?

- "Think about all the things you had to do to get that person hired, all the steps you had to go through, all the people you had to talk with, the forms and everything..."

Ask Great Starting Questions

Scenario: You want the participants to identify the steps in the hiring process.

The Type B Question

- "We will start this with... Think about the last time you hired someone. Think about all the things you had to do to get that person hired, all the steps you had to go through, all the people you had to talk with, the forms and everything... What are the steps in the hiring process?"

Ask Great Starting Questions

- When do you use a Type B?
  - At the beginning of every agenda item
- It takes preparation!
  - If you don't prepare, you will most likely use a Type A
- Create a list of Type B questions for the standard sessions you facilitate.

Standing Poll: True or False?

It's best if NO dysfunctions occur during a meeting.

- Answer: TRUE!
- Why? The best dysfunctions are those that don't occur.

Understanding Dysfunctional Behavior

Handout Page 10

Dysfunctional behavior is any activity by a participant that is consciously or unconsciously a substitution for expressing displeasure with the session content, the facilitation process, or an outside factor.

Separate Symptom from Root Cause

- Treat dysfunctional behavior as a sign that the participant is asking for help
- The participant is waving a red flag that is masking the real issue (root cause)
- Dysfunctional behavior is a symptom
- Dysfunctional behavior tends to get worse over time

Dealing with Virtual Dysfunction Types

Dysfunction	Suggested Action
Drop-out Maintains silence, fails to participate	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Remind the group of ground rules. (Everyone speaks.)</li> <li>- Employ a round-robin brainstorming activity to get everyone involved.</li> <li>- Do a mini round-robin.</li> <li>- Discuss privately during break to ensure there is not an additional problem.</li> </ul>

Dealing with Dysfunction Types

Dysfunction	Suggested Action
Naysayer Demonstrates negative physical reactions, voices audible sighs of displeasure	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Say with optimism, or jokingly, "It appears that we have some concerns about this alternative. Let's talk about it. What are the issues?"</li> <li>- Seek buy-in by asking, "How can you make it better?"</li> <li>- At the break, attempt to reach a solution in which the person will openly speak about concerns during the group session.</li> <li>- Be sure to get all the issues out.</li> </ul>
